THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

1. After Soviet Zone parties were instructed by the Soviets to attack the "Ruhr Statute" and the forthcoming "Occupation Statute", the CDU and the LDP representatives asked the SIA for an official statement announcing that no further Bolshevization measures would be undertaken in the Soviet Zone. The SIA declined with the remark that such a statement would be made by the "proper authority".
2. At a meeting of the legal chiefs of the Soviet Zone Lander on 15 January 1949, Max Fechner said that land reform and expropriation were finished and that remaining private properties would be respected. However, he qualified this remark by explaining that the Soviets had told him that such a policy would apply only so long as there existed no Western German Government.
